Clifton Anderson Biography

Clifton Anderson specializes in the material culture of the Ohio River Valley from the early Republic's Western frontier period through the 20th century. Anderson has dealt in Kentucky art and antiques since 1973, which has afforded him a unique perspective on the region's fine and decorative arts. His most recent research efforts with Marianne P. Ramsey culminated in exhibitions on sugar chests at The Speed Art Museum in Louisville and vernacular seating furniture at Shaker Village at Pleasant Hill in Kentucky. He owns and operates Clifton Anderson Art and Antiques in Lexington, Kentucky.
